

Terms of Use

These Terms of Use constitute a legal agreement between you, the user of the Website, and the Catapult, as the owners of the Website. Throughout these Terms of Service we will refer to you as “you”, and we will refer to The Catapult as “we”, “us” or “The Catapult”.

Use of our Website (at commonsensing.gov.fj) is provided by the Satellite Applications Catapult Limited (‘Catapult’) and is subject to certain terms of use. Use of this Website constitutes your acceptance of, and agreement to, the following terms and conditions:

1. By using our Website, you agree to be legally bound by these terms, which take effect on your first use thereof.
2. The Catapult may change these terms at any time. Please review these terms regularly to ensure you are aware of any changes made. Your continued use of this Website after changes are posted means you agree to be legally bound by these terms as updated. We reserve the right to withdraw, remove or amend the service we provide on this Website without notice. We will not be liable if for any reason our Website is unavailable at any time or for any period.
3. The Catapult shall not be liable for any direct, indirect, special or consequential damages whether in contract, tort or otherwise, arising from using this Website or the reliance on any information contained within.
4. The Catapult assumes no responsibility and shall not be liable for any damages to your computer equipment or other property on account of your access to, use of, or browsing of our Website.
5. You must not misuse this Website by knowingly introducing viruses, trojans, worms or other material which is malicious or technologically harmful. You must not attempt to gain unauthorised access to our Website, the server on which our Website is stored or any server, computer or database linked or related to this Website. You must not use this Website for any purpose that is unlawful, including any fraudulent use. You must not disguise or interfere in any way the IP address of the computer you are using to access the Website or otherwise take steps to prevent us from correctly identifying the actual IP address of the computer you are using whilst accessing this Website. You must not attempt to use the Website to simulate communications from us or another service or entity in order to collect identity information, authentication credentials or other information. Misuse of our Website will be reported to the relevant law enforcement authorities and your identity will be disclosed to them.
6. If our Website contains a link that is then used to access another website, the linked websites are not under direct control of the Catapult. The Catapult is not responsible for its content and potential damage to your computer. The links are provided for your convenience and it should be noted that the inclusion of any link does not imply endorsement by the Catapult of any kind.
7. By using our Website, you accept that the information contained within it is provided by the Catapult on an “as is” and “as available” basis. You understand that the information is provided without warranty of any kind. The Catapult expressly disclaims all warranties, whether expressed or implied, including, but not limited to, all implied warranties and conditions of merchantability and fitness for any particular purpose, non-infringement and accuracy.

8. Consent to use the Website has been granted to IPP CommonSensing Project Partner organisations. Other organisations wishing to use the content of our Website should obtain written permission from the Catapult to do so. Without such permission, you may not copy, reproduce, republish, download, make available to other parties, or otherwise use the content of our Website in any way. Moreover, you agree not to adapt, alter or create a derivative work from any content of our Website except for your personal non-commercial and non-academic use.
9. The names, images and logos identifying the Catapult, the CommonSensing Project or third-parties and their services or products are subject to copyright, design rights and trademarks of the Catapult and/or third-parties. Nothing contained in these terms shall be construed as conferring by implication or otherwise any license or right to use any trademark, patent, design right or copyright of the Catapult, or any other third-party. If you believe that any content on our Website infringes your intellectual property rights, please send a letter to the address below stating the details of the intellectual property rights you feel have been breached.
10. These Terms of Use for our Website apply alongside our Privacy Policy.

These terms shall be governed by and interpreted in accordance with the laws of England and Wales.

The courts of England and Wales shall have non-exclusive jurisdiction in relation to any claim relating to these terms and the use of this Website.

If you wish to make a complaint about The Catapult or any content within the Website, please send correspondence in writing to:
